Snow is falling but it can't be seen from here

And back on Earth, my loving wife's been dead for years

I see myself in relation to it all

What seemed important now like dust inside the squall

Each moment for me is a lifetime for you

The clouds have no history

And the sea feels no sorrow

The oxygen recycled

And the atoms are just borrowed

The painless and fragility

Of this cycle, oh

I'm already gone

Is there self?

Is this real? Is this a dream?

There's no reason for anything
Just a beautiful infinity (Ooh)
No design and no one at the wheel
Just an existential mystery
La-la-la-la-la, la-la, la-la

The light that radiates from here could shade the sun
But in a billion years its journey's just begun
(Begun, do-do-do-do)

From the air, from the dust

From the sea, from the blood

In the capsule falling millions of years

Prison

All we were, All destroyed

Drifting on through the void

As the permanence of matter disappears

Taken

From the air, from the dust

From the sea, from the blood

In the capsule falling millions of years

Prison

All we were, All destroyed

Drifting on through the void

As the permanence of matter disappears
