Looking for a better day Looking for a better day

Who feels it knows it Yeah the summertime is coming And it's about to slow down, slow down Yeah the summertime is coming And it's about to slow down, slow down All I need is sunshine, all I need is you We're here to have a good time, that's what we're gonna do So come with me, come with me Follow in the shadow, been walking in my shoes Nothing else matters, when I'm alone with you I feel so free, so free Yeah the summertime is coming And it's about to slow down, slow down Yeah the summertime is coming And it's about to slow down, slow down To the top of the world, from the bottom of the sea The people always asking, but I won't change a thing No not me, I still believe Well every step is lasting, step into the sun Do what makes you happy, that's the number one It's all you need, all you need Yeah the summertime is coming And it's about to slow down, slow down Yeah the summertime is coming And it's about to slow down, slow down Who feels it knows it You can laugh, you can sing You can make your life a dream You can pray, you've been saying You've been waiting for the day We're in an isolated sun without a glimpse of hope Dark long days, yeah they come and they go One dips, one trips, one cashes in his chips One cries, one will hide, one submits to his demise But another, he makes daybreak out of night Sings a summer tune, and feels quite alright Looking for a better day Looking for a better day

Looking for a better day

Who feels it knows it Who feels it knows it Who feels it knows it Who feels it knows it