

I want you to be at peace, I see you mask the pain
How long can you keep it up inside a hyper brain?
When you're comin' down and crashin', I won't look the other way
It's gonna happen one of these days
He's only gettin' busier, this drink is [?]
You think you're at your happiest, you threw your money away
My friend is on a mission and he said it [?]
It's gonna happen one of these days

You're backed into a corner full of
Cold in the dark, you're breakin' my heart
Strung out, what you doin' playin', playin' fragile games?
This world has got a hold on you
They're wearin' down scars, they're playin' guitars
Strung out, what you doin' playin' with all your [?]?

It manifests inside ya, I see you're out of touch
What's left to talk about it? And how long will it take to bust?
The tension's growin' heavier, you're flowin' into rust
And I can't be behind you if you run the other way
You think they got your back, but how much do you trust?
Let's take a look for memories, there's nothin' there you love
We're livin' the [?] and losin' the game
Losin' your sight, you'll be makin' new friends
Never been one to be chasin' another
But don't forget us, my brother

If you wanna drive and go the wrong way
Then you don't wanna put the brakes on
And I'm telling you, you're gonna crash one of these days
Your eyes are looking heavy so I think it's necessary
Let me help you turn the lights on
'Cause I'm telling you, it's brighter this way

You're backed into a corner full of
Cold in the dark, you're breakin' my heart
Strung out, what you doin' playin', playin' fragile games?
This world has got a hold on you
They're wearin' down scars, they're playin' guitars
Strung out, what you doin' playin' with all your [?]?

Ooh, yeah
Ooh, yeah
But I just want her to see it, ah
But I just want her to see it, ah
But I just want her to see it, ah
But I just want her to see it, ah
I just want her to see it, ah
I just want her to see it, ah
