Static

Still Corners

The summer sun has disappeared
But I'm not alone I've got you here

The world has gone blue
Nothing we can do
Just static on the line
Holding on a dream
Nothing as it seems
Alone together tonight

There's a storm ahead I can see
Clothes on the line it's blowing the sheets
And oh the air is heavy with smoke
And oh I feel the weight the weight

Lines have gone down it's not just me
Wind from the storm brought 'em to their knees

The world has gone blue
Nothing we can do
Just static on the line
Holding on a dream
Nothing as it seems
Alone together tonight
