

Better

Stone Broken

You keep on thinking that it's all too far away
But you can reach it, you don't wanna try
It's all just a-locked away in your mind
You keep on thinking of the things you wanna say
Don't say a thing so you don't have to lie
Just keep pretending that everything is fine

Stop wishing your life away
And start thinking of things you know that you can do better
Stop thinking of yesterday
You can see for yourself you know that you can do better

You keep on running from the things you don't wanna face
How many times d'you have to say goodbye
You keep on thinking of the things you leave behind
You keep on waiting for the things you don't wanna chase
Well you can twist the truth but can't deny
That in the end your world will pass you by

Start it over
You can do what you want to
And be who you want to be
Start it over

Stop wishing your life away
And start thinking of things you know that you can do better
Stop thinking of yesterday
You can see for yourself you know that you can do better

Stop wishing your life away
And start thinking of things you know that you can do better
Stop thinking of yesterday
You can see for yourself you know that you can do better

Stop wishing you life away
Stop thinking of yesterday
Stop wishing your life away, yeah
Oh!

Stop wishing your life away
And start thinking of things you know that you can do better
Stop thinking of yesterday
You can see for yourself you know that you can do better

Stop wishing your life away
And start thinking of things you know that you can do better
Stop thinking of yesterday
You can see for yourself you know that you can do better

Do better! you know that you can do better
Oh
