

The Devil You Know

Stone Broken

In my mind
It's like I'm beaten, eaten up inside
Looking for pieces scattered I can't find
A fundamental feeling of breaking through the ceiling
Giving me a reason

Don't think about it
When the writings's on the wall (The writings's on the wall)
Better believe we'll fight until we fall
In the middle, waiting, wondering, debating
Every minute fading

Can't stop, won't stop, can't stop
Can't stop, won't stop

I've taken all the medicine to better my soul
But I'm not feeling anything, I'm losing control
And waiting on the enemy has taken its toll
Better than the devil is the devil you know

Who knows (Who knows)
If I'm heading for the ground below? (Ground below)
What if the fear won't ever let me go?
On demand, deflated
Underhand, narrated
Leave me isolated

Can't stop, won't stop, can't stop
Can't stop, won't stop

I've taken all the medicine to better my soul
But I'm not feeling anything, I'm losing control
And waiting on the enemy has taken its toll
Better than the devil (Better than the devil)
Is the devil you know

Better than the devil, ooh, oh

I've taken all the medicine to better my soul
But I'm not feeling anything, I'm losing control
And waiting on the enemy has taken its toll
Better than the devil (Better than the devil)
Is the devil you know

The devil you know
