

Tar Poo

Stone Sour

Wow!

Come on!

It seems you see yourself inside a lie
Break down and save yourself to no prevail

Tell me
You showed the way

Maybe you'd rather dance with self-esteem
Cringe as you find your mental gangrene

Tell me
You showed the way
Today you seem quite insane
But tomorrow
The man I am will be gone
'Cause you're all too blind, to see that something's wrong

Don't fight this, I know you're a little scared
Speak freely, until I drag the truth from you

Trust me
And I'm the way

And I need to jump right in and fuck around
Access to places that you dream about
Trust me
And I'm the way
Today you seem quite insane
But tomorrow
The fine line drawn will be gone
And you're all too blind, to see that something's wrong
The facade so tried and true is stripped away
And the man you tried to save is led astray

Save me
I'm so scared and I can't find my way and I need someone to save me
Help me
Time will tell 'cause time has told on me and I need someone to help
'Cause the road is long and the hold is strong
I can see you in my mind
Yeah

Come on!

See what a work of art my patient is
No big deal, the mind inside is mine not his

Fear me
And stay away
You'll never come around this place again
You've seen me, I'll put your snooping to an end

Fear me
And stay away
Today you seem fine and sane

But tomorrow, the world you know will be gone
And you're all too blind, to see that you've gone wrong

You've gone wrong
