Three Wishes

Stone Temple Pilots

Still in the morning sun
It was Saturday, if I don't mistake
And all that we've become
Turned to lullabies of love and heartache

It brings the rain
I hear your name
I wish you were ready
Ready for someone
When all is done
It's why you run
'Cause you were not ready
Ready for someone

Once and twice begun
These three wishes I cannot replace
And what would they become?
Turn to lullabies of love and heartache

It brings the rain
I hear your name
I wish you were ready
Ready for someone
When all is done
It's why you run
But you were not ready
Ready for someone

There's not much more left I can do or say
Your silence is telling the truth 'cause you walked away
'Cause you walked away

It brings the rain
I hear your name
I wish you were ready
Ready for someone
When all is done
It's why you run
But you were not ready
Ready for someone
