

Velvet

Stoney LaRue

Here I walk, an empty shell even though
It's hard to tell this lonesome hand
It's taken its toll
I just don't know how far it can go

Well come down and watch your first step
Don't do anything you might regret
Cause you're much too innocent to suffer
It wasn't all sunny days
Picking through your memories
The rain came down and you covered me in velvet
Oh you covered me in velvet

There you are, like a song I heard
In a smoky bar where the whiskey stirred
Just like my heart, it's dancing alone
And it seems like it just won't ever end

Well come down and watch your first step
Don't do anything you might regret
Cause you're just much too innocent to suffer
It wasn't all sunny days
Picking through your memories
The rain came down and you covered me in velvet
Oh you covered me in velvet

Another turn, another cautious step
Will we ever learn just how lonesome can get
You caught me running, running away
And I just don't know how long I can stay

Well come down and watch your first step
Don't do anything you might regret
Cause you're much too innocent to suffer
And it wasn't all sunny days
Picking through your memories
The rain came down and you covered me in velvet
Oh you covered me in velvet
Oh you covered me in velvet

In velvet
