

Tear Down The Sky

Straight Line Stitch

My deepest, darkest fears
Come to life
Everything you are
Was just a lie to tear down my sky

I, I, I, I, I live to seek the truth
And I have done all this without you
Hide behind your material possessions
Until the stars align, victory is mine

You were never who you claimed to be
Something's happened to reality
What I feel is beyond belief
I feel my heart has fallen out of me

How I fell for your stupidity, your hypocrisy
Your insincerity, dishonesty and duplicity
I can't believe that you had the audacity

These scars have left me guarded
There's nowhere left to run away
When will this hurt begin to fade?
These scars have left me guarded
And nothing has become of me
When will this hurt begin to fade away?

If you only knew that there's no one left here
That even cares for you
That was the last stone that you fucking threw
And if you died today I wouldn't bury you so get a fucking clue

I won't be broken
Not by you or the words which you've spoken
Goodbye and farewell
Where we go from here, it's not hard to tell

You were never who you claimed to be
Something's happened to reality
What I feel is beyond belief
I feel my heart has fallen out of me

How I fell for your stupidity, your hypocrisy
Your insincerity, dishonesty and duplicity
I can't believe that you had the audacity

These scars have left me guarded
There's nowhere left to run away
When will this hurt begin to fade?
These scars have left me guarded
And nothing has become of me
When will this hurt begin to fade away?

You wanna change who I am
You think I'm too weak to stand up
You're not better than me
I'll take you down, down, down, down to your knees

These scars have left me guarded
There's nowhere left to run away
When will this hurt begin to fade?
These scars have left me guarded
And nothing has become of me
When will this hurt begin to fade away?