

Dutch Moon

The Strangers

I've seen you there
I've seen you doing your thing in your own space
In your own time, and that's just fine

But where do you go
And have you been somewhere lately where you've seen
You'd be carefree, if not for me

Look back on the time when our paths first came together
Gazing at a yellow Dutch moon, do it soon
Remember my face and the places it took you
Under a fading Dutch moon

Look back on the time when our paths first came together
Gazing at a yellow Dutch moon, do it soon
Remember my face and the places it took you
Under a fading Dutch moon

I felt you go
I felt you leaving behind all that we had
In an instant, you're a firebrand, now I curse the moon

Forever leading me gently by my hand
Into your land
By my hand into your land
By my hand into your land
By my hand into your land
