

Night Time Eclipse

Stratovarius

If I could stay awake for awhile it would be another morning don't wanna fall asleep now when everything seems so far and beyond

Walking down a familiar road but the darkness is misleading me I know I should feel fear inside but still the shadows is where I wanna be Just an ordinary day stealing all the hope away wanting me to be the one who has dreams made of clay

My fading confused mind
creating phrases unknown

I know I shouldn't stay awake if I fall asleep they just might find me Now all is so clear
I can finally proceed

My fading confused mind
creating phrases unknown

Waiting for the dawn soon to arrive so few options that I have and I can use Life's circumstances can be so cruel
If I take a chance I just might make the wrong move
