Survive

Stratovarius

I have seen the truth, I've seen it in my dream
I have found my voice, but don't know what to say
For I have lost my way and no-one's here to find me
I loathe my loneliness, I hate the emptiness

I'm hanging on a wire
Ablaze and set on fire
Waiting for the crack to come
I snap and let it go

I fall
Through the darkness
About to lose it all
I fall
Against the odds I played and lost it all
Saw the future, now it's gone

Only the strong will survive
I will try to find the strength inside
Only the strong will survive
I will not give up, as long as I'm alive
I will not give in, as long as I'm alive
Only the strong will survive

An eternal road where demons go to die
Runs through this barren land where my madness lies
Have I now lost my mind
Am I mute, deaf and blind
I scream without a sound
I just can't let it out

I fall
Through the darkness
About to lose it all
I fall
Against the odds I played and lost it all
Saw the future, now it's gone

Only the strong will survive
I will try to find the strength inside
Only the strong will survive
I will not give up, as long as I'm alive
I will not give in, as long as I'm alive
Only the strong will survive

The future's not bright but it's mine
I won't lie, there's no hope in sight but I'll survive

I will try to find the strength...

I will try to find the strength inside
Only the strong will survive
I will not give up, as long as I'm alive
I will not give in, as long as I'm alive
I will not give up, as long as I'm alive
Only the strong will survive

Only the strong will survive
