

I'm not lost I need a new connection in life
I need warmth as time ticks on by
I've got hope, but I doubt the things that should be alright
I've got friends and I've got family

I just need time
To get over the finish line
I'll have my time to shine

I don't need much I just want company
But you can wrap your arms around my neck
I don't need love I just want company
But you can hold me close, I won't complain

I've got time, I've got some things that others don't Always want more, I'll learn the hard way
I'll be fine, correct my faults and learn to be alone
I'm at a theme park and it's the main attraction

I just need time
To get over the finish line
I'll have my time to shine

I don't need much I just want company
But you can wrap your arms around my neck
I don't need love I just want company
But you can hold me close, I won't complain

As I'm left on my own two legs
I just need so much more
As I'm left on my own two legs
I need so much more
