Scissor Hands

Stray from the Path

We were the best of friends
But you don't need me in the end,
You fooled me once that won't be happening again,
We were the best of friends
She's playing games with your head,
She fooled you twice I'll never see my friend again.

Like the skin of a snake you shed my friend,
My fingers they ache but I still press send,
I know your alone yet you still won't pick up your phone,
Your lost in this world looking around for your backbone

Flashing back to the times were we spent,
Every hour of everyday where nothing got in our way,
Flashing back, I wonder what those times even meant,
Every hour of everyday and now you don't have much to say.

I know your still alone.

We were the best of friends
But you don't need me in the end,
You fooled me once that won't be happening again,
We were the best of friends
She's playing games with your head,
She fooled you twice I'll never see my friend again.

Your a leaf in the fall I've watched you change,
Into something you've always hated that filled you with rage,
But I see that it isn't you this person I kinda know,
I hope that you fade away as fast as the wind blows.
And she's the queen of hearts, with an ace up her sleeve,
And you have her a diamond kid, because she made you believe

Flashing back to the times were we spent,
Every hour of everyday where nothing got in our way,
Flashing back, I wonder what those times even meant,
Every hour of everyday and now you don't have much to say.

We were the best of friends,
But you don't need me in the end.
We were the best of friends,
She's playing games with your head.
