Soles of my shoes cracked, a stretched out tee
A band-aid on my torn up knee would be a luxury
My vocal chords tear in front of the pop filter
These are all my wounds, my scars, they're my tattoo

I won't cover them - I'll show all I've got
I won't hide them - it's fine if they all show
The pains and failures that make you
Want to give it all up are just an excuse
I'll take it all, I'll ruin myself
When i ruin myself more

Knock knock, you you never want anything more than me being smart
I lose, lose it because no matter where you go they all say the same thing
They strike with their stinging words
Everything's taken as just acceptance, agreement, submission, or defiance
But we won't take it. our opinions and thoughts are like cutting scissors
Silence does nothing
The value of our learning here is nothing in front of the goals i hold

It dirties our lives
I won't unclench my fist
If what you mean by "teaching"
Is telling me to quit then just kill me, kill me bang
Wanna be the gang
The moment you're faced with giving up your dream you've lost
Break away from the prejudice that we're sure to fail
I can show all the cards in my hand, I won't lose either way

Imma look back, Imma look back, Imma look back to the future in fact
My past dreams become reality and i awaken from my terrible nightmare
I woke and hit refresh to write out the things I want again
I whip myself with dissatisfaction, and that's what brought me here

I do it for my team, I do it for my fan
I keep making it past each and every level
I roll out a red carpet across Korea in front of my excited gait
Anything that gets in my way I just kill it, click clack chick chick bang
The idiots who want nothing more than thrills gather on thin ice

I don't bother voicing my complaints out and around
Just in front of myself and how I'm dissatisfied now
It's been a while since I found a seat i wanted to be my own
There won't be any way to avoid some blood
I have always wanted more, if I didn't how could I get anything?
I want more and more. I need it all to be satisfied

Even if I can't pick the stars from the sky I need to at least make it up there
If I make it and fall like a shooting star I still know i started from the bottom
No matter what others think of me. that's what makes me what I want to be Fine, keep ignoring me. that's exactly what will make me scarier for you

Cross mountain after mountain
River after river, just cross it all
Cross the mountain to the range, the river to the sea
I make it past it all and see what's next
They say low expectations means you can't be disappointed
But i have high expectations for everything
I shoot my expecations knowing I'll make a goal
I won't ever accept a miss

I'll win 100 of 100 battles
100% exploding potential
I spit in the face of retreat with my spirit and bravery
I'll win 100 of 100 battles
I burn my passion
I never learned to fear failure
I'm so confident it's overflowing
I'm certain I'll make it so I set up my dream
