I'll go wherever I wanna go

Walk for a bit and sit again
Should we walk more after a bit of rest
Light light footsteps
I don't care wherever we go

Even if it's the wrong direction
Even if it takes time
Even if we walk then fall
Even if we lose to failure, spit on giving up

Why think of everything so deep wherever you go
Don't have to jump over that wall

Just go around, round and round
Just go wherever you want

I'm standing here yet again
Another sun under the sky continues to rise and set
I just become a cloud and leave myself to the wind
Fly anywhere and dance

I'll go wherever I wanna go

Look at the compass and walk
I don't mind wherever I go
Even if the wall blocks the way, I just take another path
I'll go wherever I wanna go

Always leave myself to the wind
I don't care whatever comes out
Lift my foot, take a step and go
I'll go wherever I wanna go
I'll go wherever I wanna go

Wander after walking for a bit
Wander because I get confused a bit
Freeze, again panic
Frustrating situation
