The night when all sorts of thoughts come to my mind
As usual I look up to the night sky
As there are more stars twinkling
Why do I get more nervous and anxious? Yeah

As if the stars
Are looking down on me, I feel bad these days
Should I follow the blowing wind?
Am I left behind facing the headwind?

Not anyone can do this
I shout out every day that I'm not anyone
I know my situation and circumstances
But I keep on going this way
No matter how much I walk I still remain in the same place

Treadmill
This déjà vu is unwelcomed, it distresses me
The two different paths between crisis and opportunity
Is the one that I've been on a crisis?
Pretending not to know I keep asking

I want to be like the twinkling star
Not everyone can be a star Bling bling
I'm afraid of falling
Like the falling stars
I guess I'll never ever find out

All sorts of thoughts come to my mind
Should I go or not? Yah
All sorts of thoughts come to my mind
I have all sorts of thoughts in my mind
Why am I wandering even if I chose my path?
I ran looking at the star
I feel hopeless about my path so I'm scared again
Can I be like that star?

Have I come too far? Yeah
It's the same even if I look back Yeah
In darkness I've walked
By relying only on the shining star
I know I've been walking this way
Based on my will and choice
But I keep looking elsewhere
Are these my lingering feelings? I know it shouldn't
But I'm afraid that it will turn into regrets

Ey Who would challenge knowing that it's impossible?
I often get hurt after coming in
But I pretend working hard If I step backwards
Will somebody blame me
For being irresponsible?
The path I've been on looking upon the star
Fades away in the dense forest silence
I'm afraid that the star I've been watching
Has already fallen like a meteor

I want to be like the twinkling star
Not everyone can be a star Bling bling
I'm afraid of falling
Like the falling stars
I guess I'll never ever find out

All sorts of thoughts come to my mind
Should I go or not? Yah
All sorts of thoughts come to my mind
I have all sorts of thoughts in my mind

Honestly this is my choice
But I feel nervous about not being able to do it as I wish
Only the expectations for me grow bigger
I'm afraid to fall down if I rely on more

Woah (Hey)
Shall I turn back?
Woah (Hey)
Don't look back

Should I go or not? Yah

I have all sorts of thoughts in my mind
Why am I wandering even if I chose my path?
I ran looking at the star
I feel hopeless about my path so I'm scared again
Can I be like the star?
