

The Promise

Stream of Passion

I'm looking at you like it's the first time
Although we've met before in a past life
Before centuries of pain and strife
I want to say so much but I can't hide
That I'm choking up on the inside
I let you down, but I
Will make it right

This is my promise
I'm never letting go of your hand
This is my promise
I will forever hold you in my arms
Up to my last breath I'll keep you safe from harm

Remove your armor and leave it outside
I know you're scared to death, so am I, but
We didn't come this far
To cower and hide
We will reunite in a next life
And hand in hand we'll bask in the sunlight
Like partners in the most Perfect crime

This is my promise
I'm never letting go of your hand
This is my promise
I will forever hold you in my arms
Up to my last breath I'll keep you safe from harm

This is my promise
I'm never letting go of your hand
This is my promise
I'm never letting go of your hand
This is my promise
I'm never letting go of your hand
This is my promise
I'm never letting go of your hand
