In Stereo

Street Dogs

We got it

We got time, lets get things moving shake it up, There are no more rules It's not something to believe in, just a little thought and a lot of feeling

You've been told all your life You'll never get it right Don't listen to these lies Because no one controls you life

We all know that time is precious so don't let it slip away life is more then a more existence we must live it everyday round and round the world keeps spinning where it stops nobody Knows, so open up our ears and We'll hear the music IN STEREO!

You've been told all your life You'll never get it right Don't listen to these lies Because no one controls you life (2x)
