

When All Else Fails

Stretch Arm Strong

they took away all that I thought that I needed they made me feel like I was second best they forced me to look deep inside myself they said I would fall just like all the rest self doubt it has a hold on me I tried so hard but I can't break free this pain inside me it used to bind me now I can feel it drive me won't accept what they tried to sell me can't forget the times they betrayed me won't accept what they tried to sell me can't forget they betrayed me if you feel like you can't go on look deep inside

you can carry on
if you feel like you can't go on
look deep inside

and we're searching for our purpose and the light is out of focus look at all we share our refuge that's abounding and the love and care surrounding
