Aluminum Union

Strike Anywhere

light light in the beggar's cart light light when the trouble starts to weigh to weigh to weigh to weigh light light in the beggar's cart light light in the heavy hearts to weigh to weigh to weigh to weigh fight their future organize this righteous treason focused (on) faultlines scholars of the killing season war in your head while we wait for answers the poor lie dead there is a war in your head lined up for the ticket at the store then pushed out for the crime of wanting more too false too far away to hear: decay in the voice of reason deceit in the truths to reveal then clear the shadows that they will never steal what we feel we're marching anti-heroes for a hundred reasons parasites the martyrs for their profit margin war in your head while we wait for answers the poor lie dead so you placate an illusion a doctrine of hate I reject your lies and the murdering state deny this fate where but for life and love go I it's not too late our kingdom is the earth and sky deny!

well we're marching anti-heroes for a hundred reasons parasites the martyrs for their profit margins

light light in the beggar's cart light light when the trouble starts to weigh to weigh to weigh to weigh light light in the beggar's cart light light light in the heavy hearts to weigh (9x)