

Western Scale

Strike Anywhere

Half alive we fall through worlds we go to colorful altars in the grip of war and woe and the desperate charge to make the damage look undone here's another war across the ocean

casualties of war
you better learn
casualties of war
whose souls are reaching
casualties of war
you'll find better way
casualties of war
that's all

through days of hunger and nights that we forget I think that we could heal together strength to strength
and from the scars of everything we've left behind
to find a new life
set our souls alight

casualties of war
you better learn
whose souls are reaching
casualties of war you'll find a better way
casualties of war
in rebel learn

casualties of war
politics in war
we'll find better way
we're casualties of war that's alright from the scars of everything we left behind
to find a new life
through days of hunger nights that we forget that we could heal together
strength to strength
