

Poltava

Stroke 9

[Verse 1]

They say all in the wrist
but was your life in that one minute could prove that you exist I'll write it down page after page
do you expect to live forever and see the dawn of a new age?
'Cause we all fall from time to time it's all I can do to draw the line But don't forget to take your chances anyways and swim the oceans of regret I'm a goner I'm a ghost
the feigning sunshine of your coast

[Chorus]

But I'm a goner I'm a ghost
the feigning sunshine of your coast
So here I go
to right into the sunset
Just like the days when all our battles weren't over Until you know
don't make a sound
should I stay or should I go or should I run for cover right now?

[Verse 2]

Hands have been choking in my sleep
The water's rough and treacherous ever fall into the deep?
But I've found
Keys to the lock
No lover's past can break the chain
I use them all as building blocks Make your mark make up your mind it's all I can do to draw the line to draw the line

[Chorus]

But I'm a goner I'm a ghost
the feigning sunshine of your coast
So here I go
Just like the days when all our battles weren't over
Until you know
don't make a sound
should I stay or should I go or should I run for cover right now?

[Bridge]

Is there a love that's locked in trust that time could chip away the rust so forever slumber inside golden dreams tonight

[Final Chorus]

So here I go
Just like the days when all our battles weren't over
Until you know
don't make a sound

should I stay or should we go or should I run for cover right now?
