

Resistance

Strung Out

Tell me everything that you love, that you lost, that you wish you still had
Show me everything that you build, that you kill, that keeps yo u up at night
Zero year, where are we now with the plague, with the rage, wit h the company's debt?
We had it all, we never knew, like a God on our side, like the fear in you

And every day we ask ourselves why the hell we ever let the vam pires in
We paint the walls of this disease with the names of the saints that are never gonna save us

Tomorrow when you go and the sun comes up for the last time
Will I see your shadow every time I close my eyes?
Beneath me, above me
All hands on deck for the rapture
Resistance abandoned
Give in just a little and I'll come along

Keep it together and I'll tear it apart, destroy like we used t o
At the end of time, tell me what you find 'cause there ain't no angels to see you through Like an atheist down on his knees, like a sunken ship, like a c ult of thieves
Rattle in chains to make your peace with the dark, with the lig ht, with this new disease

Does anybody here remember how we got into this cage?
There is no love in freedom
There is no love in freedom

Tomorrow, when you go, I know that nothing will ever be the sam e
How do we leave something if we cannot hold onto time?
Beneath me, above me
All hands on deck for the rapture
My resistance abandoned
If you give in, then I'll give in

Can't shake this aching feeling That I'm missing out on you All hands on deck, take back the world
'Cause there's nothing here for us
And nothing to hold us down

Tomorrow, when you go and the sun comes up for the last time
Will I see your shadow every time I close my eyes?
Beneath me, above me
All hands on deck for the rapture
Resistance abandoned
Give in just a little and I'll come along Follow along
