

Town of Corazon

Strung Out

When I look into your eyes
I wonder how the hell you got so far
From under all the things
That we've been through
If I steal the wheel you'll navigate
And pick a song I like
We show up late to a funeral
Past the town where I was born

Now we belong nowhere
I've got no place to fall
With no chance at all

It's days like these
When all the world makes perfect sense
Can finally see without our eyes
We know we can handle this
If tomorrow takes it all away
We still got more
Than we'll ever know so close your eyes
We made it back to the town of Corazon

All the darkness in the world I see
And the trouble with the name I bring on Fade away, for moments at a time
Surrounded by the talk of spring
And the revolution it would bring
To this beat up town
Where I was born

'Cause you and I both know
There's no place to hide
Just time alone

It's days like these
When all the world makes perfect sense
Can finally see without our eyes
We know we can handle this
If tomorrow takes it all away
We still got more
Than we'll ever know so close your eyes
We made it back to the town of Corazon

This ship sinks faster than the sun
Your life jacket will save no one
This ain't not place to lose your mind
I'm getting outta mine

It's days like these
When all the world makes perfect sense
Can finally see without our eyes
We know we can handle this
If tomorrow takes it all away
We still got more
Than we'll ever know so close your eyes
We made it back to the town of Corazon
Baby we are home
