

Grateful

Stryper

Before the morning light
When worlds are sleeping
I see my life
And promises I'm keeping
With every breath I take
I am alive and free
'Cause my life is what it's meant to be

I'm so grateful
I built on solid ground
For every high and every low
And for the lost and found
I'm grateful

In the darkest times
When all my hope is gone
I find the strength within
To face a new dawn
And with every trial I see
There's lessons to be learned
And I'm thankful for the wisdom earned

I'm so grateful
That I built on solid ground
For every high and every low
And for the lost and found
Though the stormy skies
Will bring the pouring rain
I'll always see the victory
And my heart will remain
Grateful

I'm so grateful
I built on solid ground
For every high and every low
And for the lost and found
Though the stormy skies will bring the pouring rain
I'll always see the victory
And my heart will remain
Grateful
Grateful
