

Blasphemy

Stuck Mojo

How you been, it's been a while
When I was a child, it was so damn easy
And now these days can't tell the truth from lies
And it's no surprise that our joy is leaving

Ha, ha-ha, ha
Ha, ha-ha, ha

I brought a missile to a gunfight
Don't test me or I just might Go through that cache and then erase you from the hard drive
Feel free to speak your mind
Don't break the hands of time
Write your adlibs don't play and leave them two behind
I got this reputation, built it up the hard way
No apologies, cause what someone say
We don't always agree, now that I'm always used to
But when it comes to talking shit I'm f*cking bulletproof

Never bleed one second for the money
And this has never been about the fame
I never thought for one minute that this would be the life I live
Never take for granted where I am
Blasphemy
Ha, ha-ha, ha
Ha, ha-ha, ha

bang bang it's just the same old thing
Running that same old thing
A victim to be saved, what's the deal
There's a mirror waiting for reflection

Every chance you hope, we've made a cross collection
You wipe your finger and say that's the same
Tell everyone who listen that you're not to blame
It's like everyone accepts you, no one's out to get you
Counted like a job proof, cause I'm f*cking bulletproof

Never bleed one second for the money
And this has never been about the fame
I never thought for one minute that this would be the life I live
Never take for granted who I am
Blasphemy

When they talk about me
It's behind my back and quietly
When they see me coming
They crumble like society
Jealousy, policy
Can't even beat so easily
It only hurts if it's true
I'm f*cking bulletproof

Never bleed one second for the money
And this has never been about the fame
I never thought for one minute that this would be the life I live
Never take for granted where I am

Blasphemy
Ha, ha-ha, ha
Blasphemy
Ha, ha-ha, ha
Blasphemy
Ha, ha-ha, ha
Blasphemy
Ha, ha-ha, ha
