

Forgive

Styx

Could you stare at the sun
And say that you believe
You are the only one
To continue to feel the pain
Or fly back in time before
Before the pouring rain

Did the sun ever shine so bright
As you and I
Oh, why did we toss the fight
I'll keep saying "I forgive you"
Please forgive me too till the day that it's true

Ah, do ya remember the war
And after the smoke had cleared
Too tired from all the fear
And so then the damage was done
With no hope to build again
No point to lose or win

Well aren't we the lucky ones
Still, it goes on
No, we are not nearly done
I'll keep saying I forgive you
Please forgive me too till the day that it's true

Did the sun ever shine so bright
As you and I
Oh, how could we toss the fight
Or will I ever know why

Oh, I'll keep saying I forgive you
Please forgive me too
Till the day that it's true
Till the day that it's true
