

Broken Love

Submersed

Our subtle judgements break the bonds that we make
Our subtle judgements held us back, sealed our fate
When the old world dies well both realize our mistakes
The subtle judgments
The subtle judgments
Are leading us to the grave

Who am I to decide what's right?
I'm not the keeper of your happiness anymore
Now's the time to redefine your life
Not the keeper of your happiness anymore
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up for broken love

Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up for broken love

Our darkest moments penetrate, permeate
Our darkest moments cut the cord, set the stage
When the curtain falls well all find it hard to relate
Our darkest moments
Our darkest moments
Our darkest moments
Our darkest moments
Are leading us to the grave

Who am I to decide what's right?
I'm not the keeper of your happiness anymore
Now's the time to redefine your life
Not the keeper of your happiness anymore
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love

Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love

Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up up
Give it up for broken love
Give it up for broken love

Give it up up
Give it up up

Give it up up
