

Beginning Once Again

Subseven

follow me home -
I need a change - from these blurred lines and all the words I know - I need you back -
I need your arms around me please so I dont fall

I heard your voice - so long before - Your strength remained after the switch was flipped - but please come back -
I need your arms around me please so I dont fall -

from the beginning we searched for the end - from the beginning once again - somehow I know I'll find you there - wherever that may be - cut at the joint - i fall apart - to feel You this close - and not just take hold - and then look back - and see You not there - and feel You that close -

to hear Your voice - to feel Your warmth - and felt You that close - and I just let go - watch You leave - with no goodbye -
and not just take hold.
