

Teacher's smile on my father's face
Poppa got a new job today
Momma smiles at your door
Feels so close, yet so far away

Teacher's smile on my father's face
Poppa got a new job today
Momma smiles at your door
Feels so close, yet so far away

Focus on the bottom line
What they call a dollar sign
Focus on my bottom line
So you never fall behind

Just be glory in the name of the dollar
Speak holy in the name of the father
The white man ain't tryin' to pay me proper
I'm trying to get a ring for my baby momma
And the world for my daughter, my son, here go the flowers
People never wanna say they don't care
Fake raise for the checks getting cleared
I ain't tryna live my life to compare
Just pay me for the love that I share
Yeah yeah, yeah yeah

I can't wait to get my mom a place
Pay her debt she could quit today
Hit the max on my card today
Pay it back, as soon as I can pay

Right, oh, oh

Focus on a bottom line
So you never fall behind
Focus on the bottom line
What they call a dollar sign
Focus on a bottom line
Then you'll never fall behind
