

Hymns From The Apocrypha

Suffocation

Destiny has brought you to this moment
Never ask the reason why
For this is your chosen path

Bloodlines intertwined, forming elements
Constructing celestial apotheosis
Envious, we are, blessed anointed one

Embrace this life granted
Fallen, we were denied
Unworthy within the minds of those
Who have created you
Oaths have been etched and scribed
To suffer like we did
Ruin destroying you within
By whispering beyond the veil
Sever your flesh relentlessly
Cutting deep into your arteries
Secreting the essence of life
That was bestowed upon thee as a gift from your gods
Show them your undying devotion
As you bleed out profusely
Until you stop breathing and the soul ascends

We shall
Possess what's been denied
Since time began
Vessels structured in flesh
Promised by your maker

Once beloved, now deceived
Dwelling deep beneath humanity
That's unable to accept
We are the seeds of a divine supremacy

Of hierarchy
Offspring of the all knowing
Scribed in the hymns
Hymns of the apocrypha
Shunned
Shunned from the eternal flame
These are the hymns
Hymns from the apocrypha

Embrace this life granted
Fallen, we were denied
Unworthy within the minds of those
Who have created you
And only you
Blessed and beloved one
Scribed in the hymns

We shall
Since time began

Promised by the creator
Of lies
