Trouble

Sugar Ray

I've been thinking about you
Where would I be without you?
Two steps closer, back to your heart
Used to wake up happy
That's when I knew you had me
Two steps closer, back to the start

Are you gonna take a train to see me?
Maybe I should ride the bus and meet you
Maybe we can find a place to hide
If the timing is right

I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares? You can remind me
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again
I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares, as long as you remind me?
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again

I can see you've been worrying
But the love we have between us is happening
And I never wanna lose it
So we better start to use it
Or the trouble's gonna take it away, my friend
Fell asleep in the morning
Hell of a way to start your day
But the nights are long
With the rain and thunder
And I [?] spell I'm under, and

Are you gonna take a train to see me?
Maybe I should ride the bus and meet you
Maybe we can find a place to hide
If the timing is right

I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares? You can remind me
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again
I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares, as long as you remind me?
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again

We've been going at it all wrong (all wrong)
In and out of this for so long (so long)
Are we at it again?
We've been going at it all wrong (all wrong)
Ooh, baby, gonna make it again
[?] trouble

I've been thinking about you
Where would I be without you?
Two steps closer, back to your heart
Yeah

I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares? You can remind me
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again
I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares, as long as you remind me?
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again

I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares? You can remind me
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over and over again
I know, if trouble ever finds me
Who cares, as long as you remind me?
You'll be right there beside me
Over and over and over
