50 Cent Lovin'

Sugarland

I'm so tired of being all alone
So frustrated waitin by the phone
When I think of everything I miss Wonder why I carry on like this

I can't hide my love for you
But I can surely do without
The shit you put me through

You can tell me that you're sorry til your face turns blue
Oughta go out with you brother and your best friend too
Sit on the porch and drink some more beer
I don't need your fifty-cent lovin' round here

round here [x5]
fifty-cent lovin round here

No use tryin', I won't change my mind
You've been cheatin' honey I'm not blind
I'm not half the fool you took me for
No surprise I don't love you anymore

Take your love and diamond ring
Shove'em up your buttercup
Cause they don't mean a thing

You can tell me that you're sorry til you face turns blue Oughta go out with your brother and your best friend too
Sit on the porch and drink some more beer
I don't need your fifty-cent lovin' round here
