

Endless Cycle

Suis La Lune

The best I could do was far from enough. What's the point in trying? The harder I try, the harder I fall. So why do I keep trying?

Waiting for nothing to come and make a change

I don't think I can go on like this much longer
Nothing makes a difference to me now. It's all the same

Everything that's in the past keeps coming back again. Are you really moving on if you don't move at all?
What I thought I had forgot is coming back again. Are you really moving on when nothing ever changes?

I have lost all of my will
I have lost all of my hope
Nothing makes a difference to me now

I thought that I did better but now I'm not so sure. I would really understand if you gave up on me now
I thought that I moved on, but clearly I'm still here. I'm asking too much of you, but please stay with me

All my sadness, you, you put with it
All my mood swings, you, you put up with it
I hope I could give something back, to you

The best I could do was far from enough. What's the point in trying?
The harder I try, the harder I fall. So why do I keep trying? What's the point?
But still I'll keep on trying
