

She's A Ghost

suisside

Say it now, your final day could be tomorrow
It could tomorrow, wait up, she's a ghost
The night she left, she said, "I'll haunt you"
Yeah, I'm gonna haunt your home

And still, I cry
And still, I cry

Don't bother go to sleep
Because I know I'll bore you, and that'll only hurt you
Wait up, at night, I dream of you
Knowing I'll never know you
And I'll never hear you yell

And still, I cry
And still, I cry

All you gotta do is give a bit a food
God is never cruel
I'll sew your broken heart with a string of glass
So it breaks apart

Look him in the eyes, stare into his soul
Look him in the eyes, stare into his soul
Look him in the eyes, stare into his soul
Look him in the eyes, beg to never know
Look onto his eyes, watch him as he falls
Look onto his eyes, watch him as he falls
Look onto his eyes, watch him as he falls
Look into his eyes, watch him as he falls down

Say it now, your final day could be tomorrow
It could tomorrow, wait up, she's a ghost
The night she left, she said, "I'll haunt you"
Yeah, I'm gonna haunt your home

And still, I cry
And still, I cry

Don't bother go to sleep
Because I know I'll bore you, and that'll only hurt you
Wait up, at night, I dream of you
Knowing I'll never know you
And I'll never hear you yell

And still, I cry
And still, I cry

And still, I cry
