

Silence Between Words

suisside

Grab my knife and go to town
Gore the putrid sounds
I have you figured out
Grab my arms and hold me close
I just want to know
Will I see you my love

My girl is not the same
When you look at my face
You see nothing to love
To love

My girl is not the same
And there's nothing more I hate
Than the silence between words

Silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words

I ended up
On the wrong side of the moon
And saw a ghost
I saw a ghost it took my hand and said
No one's gonna ever believe you

Grab my knife and go to town
Gore the putrid sounds
I have you figured out
Grab my arms and hold me close
I just want to know
Will I see you my love

My girl is not the same
When you look at my face
You see nothing to love
To love

My girl is not the same
And there's nothing more I hate
Than the silence between words

Silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
The silence between words
