

Think Twice

Suki Waterhouse

Swore you off again but there's some kind of smoke circling up ahead

Yeah, always think twice then my heart goes missing

Changed my license plate, can't call back mama 'til I'm outta state

'Cause this devil's love's got a hell of a grip on Got a hell of a grip on

Me and my drifter mind

Gets me in trouble every time

Yeah, I always think twice and go back for a third time
I go back for a third time

You got your sickness back

I'm the only one around who could help with that

Think with all my fences I'd have learned my lesson

Got no money for the rent, know the checks gon' bounce

'Cause I spend it on the times I had to bail you out

If you're dancing with my ghost, I'd never tell

God, it feels good to abandon myself

Me and my drifter mind

Heart in the water, lost in the tide

Yeah, I always think twice and go back for a third time

Common sense don't get me far

Excuses made for the man that you are

Yeah, I always think twice, but I still wonder why I

I go back for a third time

Ooh

Ooh

Over and over, I forgot how it happened

Count all the days I surrender to heaven

You love me here, then you leave me abandoned

Yeah, you leave me abandoned

Me and my drifter mind

Hate you in the day, love you at night

Yeah, I always think twice and go back for a third time

'Cause wondering don't get me far

I'm a helpless fool for the way that you are

Yeah, I always think twice, and I still wonder why I

I go back for a third time

I go back for a third time
