

Nice Guy

Summer Camp

You always got to walk away, you never gave those girls a chance
I've been where they are now, I've done that little dance
Some might think it's easy to see all of the pain and the lies

But you're so good at playing the nice guy
And you tell them that you're a nice guy

How do you sleep?
Is there thunder over your bed?
Does it go round and round your head, what you did
How do you sleep?
Are you waiting for a call?
To say it didn't matter at all, but it did

You claim it wasn't all your fault, and you're not the only one

It's much too late now to forgive, what you did can't be undone
Everyone around you swears they couldn't see the lie

Yeah they all believed you're a nice guy
Cos you told them that you're a nice guy

How do you sleep?
Is there thunder over your bed?
Does it go round and round your head, what you did
How do you sleep?
Are you waiting for a call?
To say it didn't matter at all, but it did

And you know what you did
And they know what you did
And we're gonna know... What you did...
