

Higher States

Sundara Karma

A miracle
The earth-shattering exchange
What did you gain?
And what was lost, what was lost?

Forget what they say
Step into the ancient world
Where blood meets the sea
And stay all in time of the old

In the mirror there's a shimmer of a ghost trying to awake
I've been trying so hard to make no big mistakes
Higher states, now we resonate
Bodies slipping into place
If this is still the same cage
Then take me far away

When was the last time you spread your wings?
And flew toward the closest blonde?
To fall from grace
Fall from grace

Forget what they say
Step into the ancient world
Where blood meets the sea
When faith was free instead of sold

In the mirror there's a shimmer of a ghost trying to awake
I've been trying so hard to make no big mistakes
Higher states, now we resonate
Bodies slipping into place
If this is still the same cage
Then take me far away

In the mirror there's a shimmer of a ghost trying to awake
I've been trying so hard to make no big mistakes
Higher states, now we resonate
Bodies slipping into place
If this is still the same cage
Then take me far away
