

Girl Like You

Sunrise Avenue

You're a pretty face with the dirty mind and you know that pretty well.
It's only natural, just like the rest of them
I fell under your spell.
The queen of city lights is on a hunt tonight
and she needs another prey.
She'll stick her poison into your heart,
you'll be one more skull on her long CV.

I don't need a girl who plays dirty tricks,
who smells someone else's cologne on her lips.
Feels like a stranger sleeping next to me.
I don't need a one-night-ride,
need a girl who stays by my side 'till the end of the world.
I'm part of someone else's destiny.
So I don't need a girl like you.

It's in your DNA, you were built this way.
And I know you'll never change.
You were not the first but you will be the last
to put me in these chains:
So miss pretty face, keep your city lights
I'm better off without them
I lured the warning signs for the road ahead.
I know how to keep myself from danger.

I don't need a girl who plays dirty tricks.
who smells someone else's cologne on her lips.
Feels like a stranger sleeping next to me.
I don't need a one-night-ride,
need a girl who stays by my side 'till the end of the world.
I'm part of someone else's destiny.

I don't need a girl who plays dirty tricks,
who smells someone else's cologne on her lips.
Feels like a stranger sleeping next to me.
I don't need a girl,
I don't need a girl like you.
I don't need a girl like you.
I don't need a one-night-ride,
need a girl who stays by my side 'till the end of the world,
I'm part of someone else's destiny.
I don't need a girl like you.
