

Runaway

Sunrise Avenue

You need time alone to love me,
you need the space to have me,
and you know that I've been trying,
to stay aside.

You really like to own me,
to show my friends you're my queen.
You play the game so fine.

There's two sides, roles in love,
being as one and being apart,
but we have only one,
I'm going crazy.

Chorus:

Time after time, you're not mine,
you gotta leave to feel alive.
Day after day,
I know I'm gonna miss you,
all through the night, after night,
you deny things,
that make me feel alive.
I just wanna wake up, break up, runaway.

You can bring the stars to my sky.
You know the way to be mine,
ten cold nights one warm.
It's not enough.

You said that I'm the guy to die for,
you told me that we're more,
than the world around.

There's two sides, roles in love,
being as one and being apart,
but we have only one,
I'm going crazy.

Chorus:

Time after time, you're not mine,
you gotta leave to feel alive.
Day after day,
I know I'm gonna miss you,
all through the night, after night,
you deny things,
that make me feel alive.
I just wanna wake up, break up, run away.

You need time alone to love me,
you need the space to have me.
You're running out of time,
after time, you're not mine,
you gotta leave to feel alive.
Day after day,
I know I'm gonna miss you,
all through the night, after night,
you deny things,

that make me feel alive.
I just wanna wake up, break up and runaway.

Time after time, you're not mine,
you gotta leave to feel alive.
Day after day,
I know I'm gonna miss you,
all through the night, after night,
you deny things,
that make me feel alive.
I just wanna wake up, break up and runaway.
