

Goodbye Baltimore (The Flute Song)

Sunrise Skater Kids

This town really sucks, like you wouldn't believe, I'm sick and Tired of the same old things, can we just pack up and leave?
I hate my band, and I hate the scene, I never Liked guitar, I'm not a rockstar, but I know how I'll feel free

So, I'll just say goodbye to the blue sky, let's run away toget her
Don't you worry, I'll play the flute for money

What'd you expect? It's only been a day, I don't know Philly like I did Baltimore, just give it time and wait I've made some good tips, that guy gave me five bucks, he may Have thought we were homeless, but still, that's pretty good lu ck

So, I'll just say goodbye to the blue sky, let's run away toget
her
Don't you worry, I'll play the flute for money

It's been three months, and we're still on the streets
The flute may have been a bad idea, I'd prefer just to eat
I'm really hungry, and I've seen better days
I think I need some medicine for the lesions on my face

So, I'll just say goodbye to the blue sky, let's run away toget
her
Don't you worry, I'll play the flute for money

So much for flute, wasn't as good as I thought It'd be wise to leave Philadelphia, and go home before I rot
But I think I'll stay, and I'm not sure why Let's stay on track, too late to go back, keep fluting 'til I d ie

So, I'll just say goodbye to the blue sky, let's run away toget
her
Don't you worry, I'll play the flute for money

And uh, that's the end!
BLEH!
