

I've got something to say to you
Tonight can we speak the truth
But I've been safe for so long in my silence
That it's turning me on as I fight this

In your arms I'm lying
That all this means something to you
All I know, all I know
You can't hide the truth in your eyes
All I know, all I know
Is everything beautiful dies

You know my tongue is tied by you
Tonight I'm trying to cut loose
But as strong and as sure as my heart is Still I've bend to your will in the darkness

In your arms I'm lying
That all this means something to you
All I know, all I know
You can't hide the truth in your eyes
All I know, all I know
Is everything beautiful dies
All I know, all I know, all I know
Beautiful
All I know, all I know, all I know
Beautiful

A smile costs you nothing
Your touch could be loving
But nothing you do is for free
A smile costs you nothing
Your touch could be something
But nothing you do is for free

In your arms I'm lying
That all this means something to you
All I know, all I know
You can't hide the truth in your eyes
All I know, all I know
Is everything beautiful dies
All I know, all I know, all I know
Beautiful
All I know, all I know, all I know
Beautiful
