

Take a photograph to remind ourselves of the days that pass
On without a glance fixed ahead
This was all like a dream in my head
Something so out of reach
Yet I can see it
Captured here in a mirror we reflect the troubles that lie ahead

We dive right in
With our heads to the sky
And our arms open wide
To embrace this moment
Oh, we live for today
Like is all that we have

Wake me up when
The time has come to arise again
Cause I don't wanna miss anything
The sun will arise
Bring forth a new light
We can't see the morning
If we close our eyes
Live to see another day
Don't let it waste away

We dive right in
With our heads to the sky
And our arms open wide
To embrace this moment
Oh, we live for today
Like is all that we have

This was all like a dream in my head
Something so out of reach
Yet I can see it
We dive right in
With the troubles that lie ahead

(We dive right in
With our heads to the sky
And our arms open wide
To embrace this moment
Oh, we live for today
Like is all that we have)

We dive right in
With our heads to the sky
And our arms open wide
To embrace this moment
Oh, we live for today
Like is all that we have

This was all like a dream in my head
Something so out of reach
Yet I can see it
We dive right in
With the troubles that lie ahead

This was all like a dream in my head
Something so out of reach
Yet I can see it
We dive right in
