

Hide away
In a place where you confide every deepest desire
Won't delay
Guess forever could expire
We could sink into the light

Said we wouldn't go there again
Thought every vibration would end
They put the knife into your hand
Thought you had enough of it
Maybe just another taste again
In deeper than before

Tired eyes all night scrolling through your phone
Can't starve your mind losing all control
Blurred lines divide now you're on your own
Oh you make me feel so low
So hypnotized doing what you're told
Oh you make me feel so low

No escape
From the everlasting glow of this broken machine
Time will take
Just a little of your fight you give into the disease

Said we wouldn't go there again
Thought every vibration would end
They put the knife into your hand
Thought you had enough of it
Maybe just another taste again
We're in deeper than before

Tired eyes all night scrolling through your phone
Can't starve your mind losing all control
Blurred lines divide now you're on your own
Oh you make me feel so low
So hypnotized doing what you're told
Blue light so bright draining out the soul
Can't tantalize won't you let me go
Oh you make me feel so low
Oh so low

Said we wouldn't go there again
Thought every vibration would end
I thought we had enough of it
In deeper than before

Tired eyes all night scrolling through your phone
Can't starve your mind losing all control
Blurred lines divide now you're on your own
Oh you make me feel so low
So hypnotized doing what you're told
Blue light so bright draining out the soul
Can't tantalize won't you let me go
Oh you make me feel so low
Blurred lines divide now you're on your own
Oh you make me feel so low
