

Another You

Sunstorm

I close my eyes and count to ten
We try and say goodnight again
I can't let the dream of a lifetime
Slip through my hands
I feel I've known you all my life
And though it's only been one night
There's some kind of magic between us
Something that time couldn't tear apart
I'm riding this wave of emotion
Straight to your heart

But if we never meet again
Your face I'll remember
On this street of dreams
Down endless avenues
As I walk through every crowd
I will call your name out loud
As I search the world
To find another you

Love disappears, without a trace
Another time
Another place
But sometimes your heart
Can surprise you
No one could plan on a night like this
You changed the world as I've known it
With one simple kiss

But if we never meet again
Your face I'll remember
On this street of dreams
Down endless avenues
As I walk through every crowd
I will call your name out loud
As I search the world
To find another you

Lead me through the open door
Help me, baby
Feel this way forever more

But if we never meet again
Your face I'll remember
As my book of days goes passing in review
I could stand in paradise
Still the world would not seem right
Unless I turned around
As I search the world to find
As I search the world to find
Another you

Never, If we never ever meet again
Never, If we never ever meet again
Never, If we never ever meet again
