

The Silence

Sunstorm

All that you've lost, there're all in the crowd
The silence suffocates
I still wonder where you are
The city lights fade

I'll catch you when you fall
All you'd lost when you were alone

The silence hits you in the dark
But I'm still breathing
All that we need here is just a spark
Will hearts still beating?
No one said we live forever
I can be the next pretender
We can get out if we leave this town tonight

Hide aside yourself tonight
And all you're letting go
I hear the lies they tell to you
Not one word was true

Everything you chased, has left you cold
In this crowded room, all of you alone

The silence hits you in the dark
But I'm still breathing
All that we need here is just a spark
Will hearts still beating?
No one said we live forever
I can be the next pretender
We can get out if we leave this town tonight

The silence hits you in the dark
But I'm still breathing
All that we need here is just a spark
Will hearts still beating?
No one said we live forever
I can be the next pretender
We can get out if we leave this town tonight

The silence hits you in the dark
But I'm still breathing
All that we need here is just a spark
Will hearts still beating?
No one said we live forever
I don't wanna be the next pretender
We can get out if we leave this town tonight
