

Run-Away

Super Furry Animals

(This song is based on a true story
Which would be fine if it wasn't autobiographical)

I could have told you why
It would have made me cry a little
I could have told you lies
It would have made me die a little
I could have told you anything
Except the truth which burns my middle

Run away, that's what I did today
Run away, there's nothing I could have said

You found another love
Someone to wipe away your tears
I left it all behind of me
Never to turn and face my fears
We may have fought with teeth and nails
I still recall your banking details

Run away, that's what I did today
Run away, there's nothing
I could have said

But cry a little
Lie a little
Die, just a little